Hi [REDACTED] - I apologize I'm on the train and didn't see the second piece. I sent a follow up email to all attorneys stating that they received emails for their clients that we are aware about. I stated that if they had clients who did not receive an invite to please let us know

Should I send you the email that was sent to [REDACTED]?

Please call me if you have any questions. If we need to reach out to these victims directly please let me know.

Thanks so much!

Good afternoon, [REDACTED]. I telephoned your office yesterday afternoon/evening and left a voicemail regarding this matter. [REDACTED] was inquiring as to whether the invitations you forwarded to his attention were copies of invitations sent to those specific victims, or whether they were sent to him so that our office can forward them. Also, we represented several additional victims for whom we did not receive invitations, and [REDACTED] was wondering as to the reason for this.

Hi Robert - I hope you are having a nice week so far. I am reaching out to confirm that you received the email invite. We haven't received many responses and wanted to touch base to see if there are any questions.

Please let me know if there are victims that I should contact directly.

Thank you so much for your assistance!
