Hi [REDACTED],

The first two agencies were provided by VS [REDACTED], since she works the West Palm Beach AOR, I asked her for the resources in the area since the Victims live in that area as well. VS [REDACTED] advised she uses these agencies specifically for HT cases and are vetted. International Rescue Committee (IRC) is not only an immigration resource, they provide counselling, housing, clothing, mental health resources and financial assistance. I utilize IRC for trauma focused HT Victims, they provide multiple resources as needed by the victims, whom did you speak with at IRC ? I use them all the time, that is very strange that they told you that, they have a HT grant that focuses on HT victims. I will look into the NOVA agencies, I have not used them before. The victims live in West Palm Beach, I don't know of too many resources in that area, but will find out on NOVA. Thanks.

Hi [REDACTED] – I hope you are having a nice week! As I am preparing for the briefing – I have been working on a referral list. I called the below and am a bit confused and concerned. The first one is not a working number and the last referral is for Immigration; and this is a sex trafficking case. I have been in contact with Florida Crime Compensation and they have told me there are various NOVA agencies that provide trauma focused services throughout Florida.

As this is a sensitive case I have been instructed by Executive Management that victims should be referred to agencies that are trauma focused and vetted.
Please let me know if you have any other appropriate referrals that I can include for the briefing.

Thanks again for your help!
