I should point this out:

[REDACTED] was seeing a therapist since the day we met.

As recently as the Epstein briefing, when we spoke, she said she was still seeing that same therapist and really liked her.

In that same day she gave [REDACTED] a form for what she says is "free therapy for life." It wasn't the CVC form (we already figured out it wasn't the CVC form and don't know which form she is referring to).

I am curious if the therapist [REDACTED] is providing to us is the same one she has been seeing this whole time. Not that it matters for EVAF, I suppose, yet the timing is interesting.

Hi - I got the info:

[REDACTED] independently made an appointment for tonight at 7pm.

This therapist is:

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Her rate is 150 for the first session which is an hour and a half. Then 90 thereafter for an hour.

[REDACTED] asked FBI to call her and explain how she will get paid.

Side note: I'm still waiting for her CVC application. This information is being provided so EVAF funds may be pursued.

Thank you so much,
[REDACTED]

I'll send her an email copy to see if she recognized the application.
If not, I'll have her re do it and email it to me.
After that, I'll give to you, [REDACTED], to give your OVS POC.

If it was a CV C application, I would have handed it to [REDACTED]. So it may have been submitted correctly in the 1st place. Who knows...

[REDACTED] if you could assist her that would be great. If we need to get her to complete another form maybe she can complete and email to you.

I've been working with [REDACTED] since her initial interview.
At the time I spoke w her at the victim conference she wasn't going to submit CVC paperwork.
Today she told me she handed the form to [REDACTED] and she doesn't have a copy to show me.
I agree one VS is always best yet here we are. :)

Can you find out how she submitted it? Also lets emphasize the importance of her talking to one vs only so things are streamlined.

Thank you all for jumping in on this. I spoke with Jen yesterday and was going to follow up with you guys.

Has she been calling anyone else? If not, I am happy to get back with her to clarify things. (If this is the case I will wait to hear from ██████████).

Thoughts?

Hi Ladies - I am confused who submitted her application? All applications were to be submitted by me as instructed by [REDACTED] at the meeting. That was in hopes to prevent this issue. There is one ovs case manager assigned to the case.

Please let me know so we can get her claim approved.

Thanks

Hi [REDACTED], [REDACTED] is seeking confirmation that NY CVC received her application.

Can you please check on the status?

[REDACTED] didn't sign off on the form to allow me permission to speak with them. She really wants therapy and so far NY CVC told her they don't have the application.

Thank you,

[REDACTED]
