I received a facsimile from T-Mobile Cellular service on telephone number [REDACTED] which is assigned to David Rodgers, pilot for Mr. Epstein, who resides in [REDACTED]. Rodgers' telephone number was dialed on several occasions by [REDACTED]. A background on Rodgers indicated he has a valid FAA pilot license First Class for the Southern FAA Region. Rodgers has another historical FAA license for Airline Transport Pilot.

Investigation Continues.

On February 13, 2006, I met with David Rodgers at [REDACTED].
[REDACTED] Rodgers was identified as Epstein's pilot. I spoke with Rodgers who advised he has been employed with Epstein since 1991. He flies both planes for Epstein depending where he wants to fly to. Rodgers was asked about passengers in the plane he flies. Rodgers stated unless Epstein flew to his island off of St. Thomas, there would be no way of knowing who the passengers were. I mentioned a recent flight to [REDACTED] where Rodgers flew to [REDACTED] to pick up [REDACTED]. Rodgers stated he recalled flying on several occasions and did not remember [REDACTED]. Rodgers stated once he is in the cockpit, he does not know who the passengers are. When he prepares the passenger manifests, he lists Epstein and his assistants he knows by name, [REDACTED] and [REDACTED]. Rodgers stated he would list either female or male passengers on the manifests only to keep a count on the passengers. Mrs. Rodgers came into the living room and recommended that her husband consult with an attorney. Mr. Rodgers agreed he would speak with the family attorney to inform him of this questioning. I explained to Mr. Rodgers that he was not the suspect in this investigation and ceased all questions. Based on the fact Rodgers could not advise who passengers were in the plane, I then left the area.
