

From: [REDACTED]

To: [REDACTED]

Subject: Re: question - different issue

Date: Thu, 15 Aug 2019 15:09:04 +0000

Importance: Normal

So, we got a press hit on one of our high schools, Talent Unlimited HS - there was the article today regarding the former student who said she was recruited for Epstein from near the school/related to the school but no one was identified.

We did a quick search of reported misconduct from TUHS and [REDACTED] has a recent case that was...slightly pervy. When we checked who he was, his life history was weird - he's a sub teacher but his personal history is nothing like a sub, no clear reason why he's a sub, moves in circles that are not indicative of a sub. (Google him, pull up his LinkedIn, note that DOE does not appear, look at everything else.) Now that may mean nothing, but when you have a guy who is quietly in DOE schools since 2005 but also in those circles....and then today's article, it just made us say hmmmmmm.

We are pulling his full service history to see if he was in other schools but wanted to ensure that neither you guys or us are overlooking anything right in front of us. Let me know if you need anything else.

From: [REDACTED]

Sent: Thursday, August 15, 2019 10:54:17 AM

To: [REDACTED]

Subject: RE: question - different issue

Hey this case is ours. I spoke with the case agents and the name is not familiar, but is there something we should know about?

From: [REDACTED]

Sent: Wednesday, August 14, 2019 4:43 PM

To: [REDACTED]

Subject: question - different issue

Hi,

Weird question for you. I don't know how much you are involved with the Jeffrey Epstein case, but I'm wondering if the name [REDACTED] is on the radar. If you want to forward this to the relevant parties, I'm happy to discuss why I'm asking.

I'm out until Monday but checking email.

Thanks,

[REDACTED]

