We can get them in the lab. We've done it before.

We just need to make sure who ever comes doesn't start talking out of school.

Steve,

Thanks for reaching out. We received a DVR in an ongoing case and we were informed that [REDACTED] was the individual who helped install the system and who helps maintain it from time to time. It is our hope that by speaking with him we can better understand the setup on site.

At this time I do not think we need to have an engineer on the call, but if it turns out that we do we would be glad to work with you on having a follow up call.

Thanks

[REDACTED] informed me you would like to have a call tomorrow, In an effort to have the right people on the call, could you provide the basis for the call and information that you desire? We can reach out to the manufacturer and get an engineer on the call if it would be of help. Let me know so I can make the proper arrangements.
