

D Models' former booker under investigation New York

Leading New York modelling agency ID Model Management confirmed that there is a federal investigation surrounding its former booker, Wilbert Hill and his new employer, Karin Models. Hill is alleged to have tampered with ID Models' computer records, including the deletion of bookings, costing the agency around $100,000. ID began a civil suit against Hill in late June. FBI special agents are reportedly investigating both Hill and Karin Models' Jean-Luc Brunel. While civil actions against bookers are not rare, ones that become federal investigations are. -
