Jeffrey Epstein

Dear Mr. Lourie:

I write as counsel to Jeffrey Epstein, the subject of a grand jury investigation being conducted by your office.

I understand from you that in the next month or two a decision will be made by your office whether to seek an indictment of Mr. Epstein. This will confirm that, prior to any such decision being made, I and other attorneys on behalf of Mr. Epstein will be given an opportunity to meet with you.

Additionally, because we believe that any decision to indict requires both a complex legal analysis in a detailed factual context and resolution of significant policy concerns, if our meeting does not resolve the matter, we would like an opportunity to make a presentation first to [REDACTED] Chief of the Criminal Division, and [REDACTED] First Assistant United States Attorney, and then, again, if no resolution is reached, the opportunity to meet with United States
