What you have written is fine. Now Cassell will go and tell the Court how uncooperative we are.

Subject: Proposed response to Paul Cassell's email

Hi [REDACTED] – I think that we need to respond to Paul Cassell's email, since he loves to tell the Court about our failures to respond. Here is my proposal.

Dear Paul:

Thank you for your email. The documents that you have requested fall within the attorney-client, work product, and other privileges and are covered by the secrecy rules of Fed. R. Crim. P. 6(e). Accordingly, we cannot agree to voluntarily provide them to you.
