Well, apparently an 11,441 square foot mansion isn't big enough, so Mr. Epstein decided to go for a stroll on the BEACH, right past a Town of Palm Beach police car. He was stopped with his two bodyguards and the encounter was videotaped. Ever the quick thinker, Epstein announced that he was walking to "work," i.e., Jack Goldberger's office, which is almost 8 miles from his home. Oh, and the beach is not on the way to the office.

Probation was notified and there will be a meeting tomorrow.
