Hey [REDACTED] – I am going to come down tomorrow to gather the boxes and talk with [REDACTED]. He has some ideas on the indictment.

Are you free for a non-Epstein coffee? Just to get out of the office?

We just informed Jay Lefkowitz and Ken Starr that CEOS will provide a lawyer to join the SDFL team regarding Jeffrey Epstein. We advised that that lawyer will be an expert in the area and, more importantly, someone who has a national perspective concerning these matters. We also advised them that the CEOS lawyer will begin to review the investigative materials and defense submissions to determine how best to proceed. Lefkowitz said that he believes that is a fair way to proceed and requested that the CEOS lawyer contact him to arrange for a meeting in Washington on Tuesday, January 22, 2008. He also requested that we divulge our theory of the case in order to narrow the issues. We leave that request up to your lawyer's determination after he/she reviews the materials and speaks to [REDACTED]. I believe, however, that they are well apprised of the theory of prosecution as is evidenced by their numerous submissions. Mr. Lefkowitz can be reached at Kirkland & Ellis LLP, Citigroup Center, 153 East 53rd Street, N.Y., N.Y., 10022-4611. His telephone number is [REDACTED]. Let me know whether you have any further questions.
