Subject: Epstein

Hi Myesha – I won't even tell you about how today is starting off badly on this case (politics, of course, not facts). But, in any event, the word is that CEOS is going to undertake an "independent review" of the case and meet with Epstein's attorneys some time next week. My supervisor is finishing the review of the indictment package and I know she caught some typos. When I finish those revisions, I will e-mail to you the entire indictment package, and you can find out what Drew wants to look at. I have one real concern, however. As you know, there are several girls that are still unknown to the defense. I want to avoid any possibility that those names might be disclosed. Should I redact the names of all of the girls from the pros memos that I send to you?

Thank you, Myesha.
