Good Morning Ghislaine,

We checked with our operations manager and they are not familiar with the branch in Providence, Rhode Island. Because we do not have a specific contact for you to connect with, it will be more convenient for you to go into a retail bank location and have your document notarized. Most retail bank locations have a notary on hand during store hours. Many UPS and other package stores also offer this service, if you want to look into that option.

Thank you!
Molly

Subject: Quick Question

Good morning Molly. Quick question. I am in Providence Rhode Island and I need a document notarized. I see that there is a UBS right there, is that something that can happen there? If so is there someone I can contact? I will be there at 9 am and looking to have that done as soon as possible. Do let me know

Thank you
Best
G
