The Hon Julia Gillard AC University of Adelaide public lecture 2019

3 September 2019

Friends, I trust you will indulge me if I start by sneaking in a quick family acknowledgement of my niece Dr Jenna Malone, who is an academic at this university's Waite Research Institute and her great friend Judy Rathjen, who is an accomplished woman in her own right and, in a connected Adelaide kind of way, is our Vice Chancellor's sister.

VINCENT BULONE 2019

I also acknowledge Judy's brother, Vice Chancellor, Mr Peter Rathjen, Professor Jenny Shaw, the Minister for Health, the Honourable Stephen Wade and the Shadow Minister for Health, the Honourable Chris Picton.

But most importantly of all, I acknowledge the traditional owners of the land on which we meet and in the spirit of reconciliation, pay my respects to Elders past and present. Yellaka, thank you for your warm Greeting to Country.

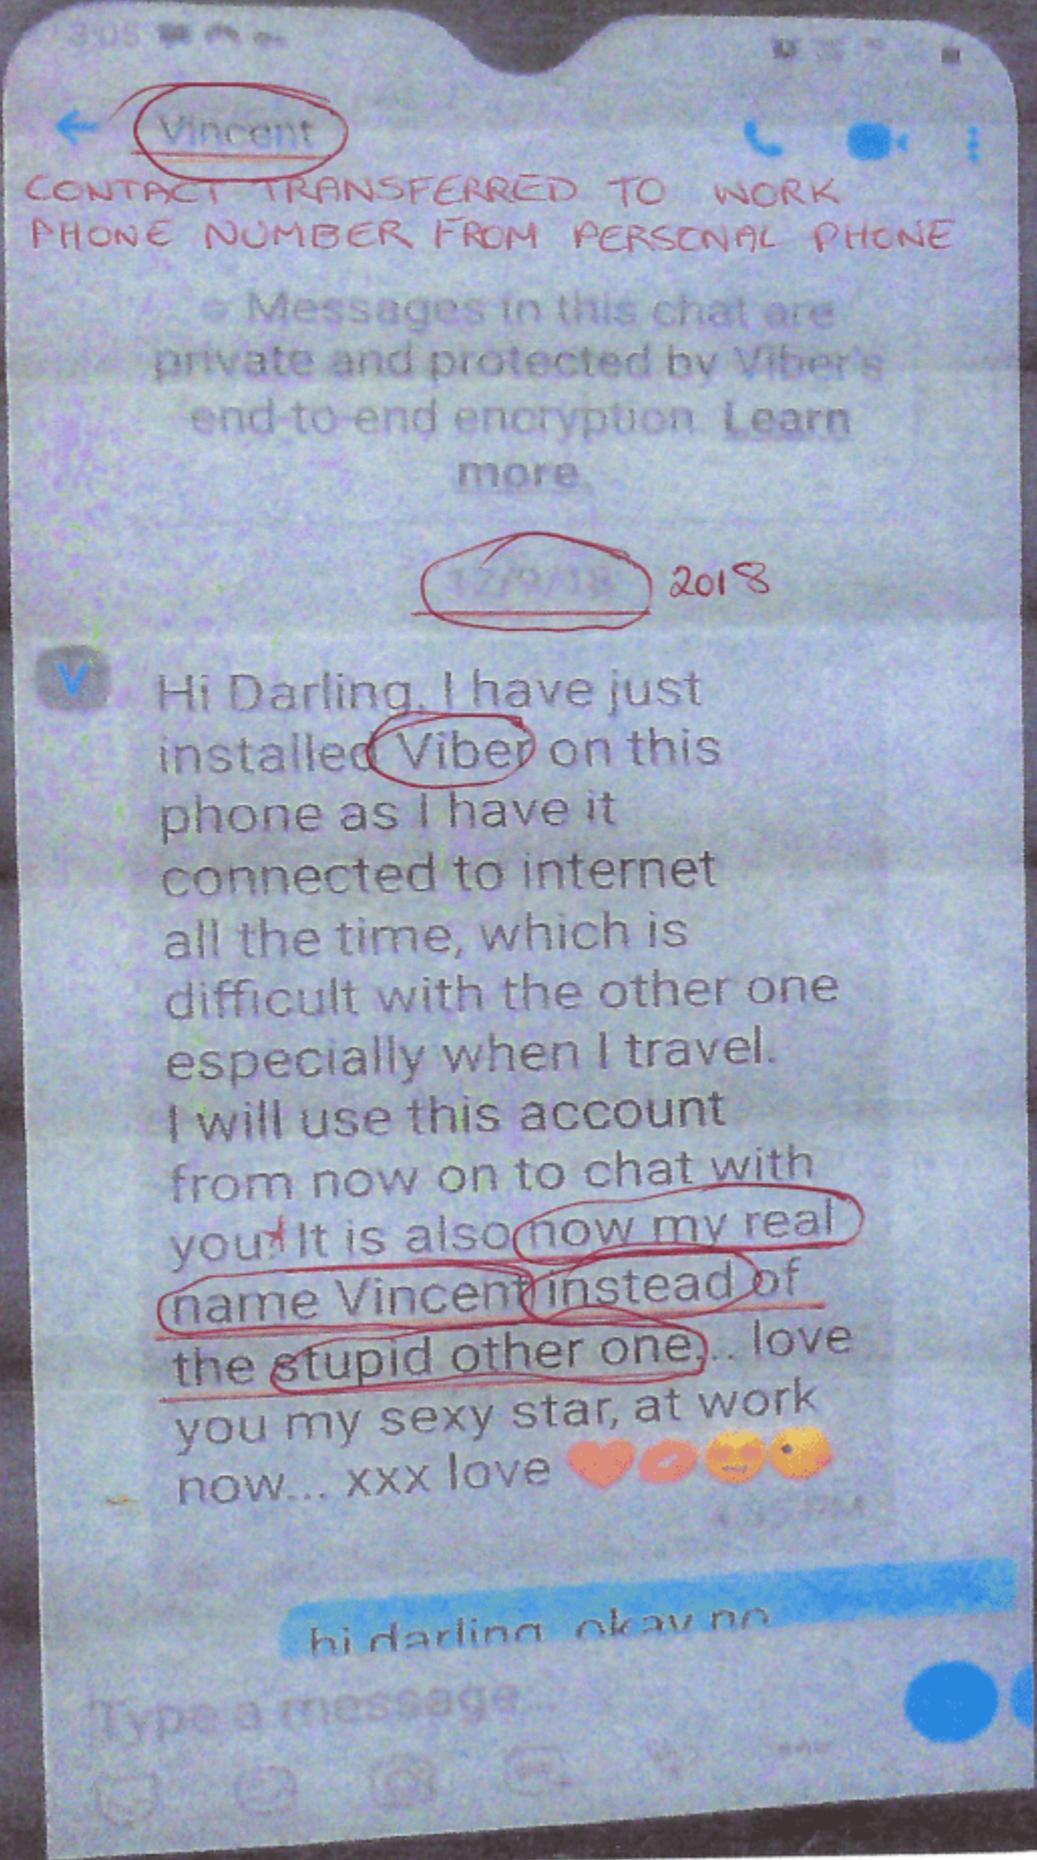

Introduction

The is the second time I have had the privilege of being so welcomed by Yellaka. The first time was at the recent South Australian State dinner to celebrate 125 years of women's suffrage in our State – a milestone to be inspired by.

SUPPLIED TO ROSE MARK PSYCHOLOGY - 7TH JANUARY 2020

ALSO SUPPLIED PACKAGE OF EVIDENCE OF TARGETING.

VINCENT BULONE - 2018-2019 CONSPIRED SEXUAL TARGETING.

Start of relationship - Dating - Relationship stresses that I have been reacting to *

PATTERN OF BEHAVIOUR - SEXUAL TARGETING.

* Italian Restaurant

Young Italian waitress was being very friendly with Vincent - Vincent was responding being over friendly and flirty / charming in return. Acting like I wasn't even there - having personal conversations with each other in Italian - she turned her back towards me and focused the attention on Vincent - Vincent precipitated the behaviour - she leant right down towards him and placed her hand affectionately on his shoulder talking Italian. Vincent barely paid me any attention. I gave her a cross look and also a concerning look towards the manager of the restaurant who was in the kitchen. The waitress was taken off our table and replaced with another and put on the bar. After the meal Vincent turned sideways to me and faced the Italian waitress in the bar and followed her movements around the bar as if trying to catch her attention. I gave him a disconcerting look. We left the restaurant. I told him off back in the hotel room.

I felt embarrassed, disrespected and betrayed, demeaned.

Vincent apologised for his behaviour.

* Robbie Davies - Adelaide University - Colleague

While Vincent was in another relationship - He left this relationship for me, had started dating me while in that relationship, was on a dating site

Vincent told me that he had been sending Robbie Davies personal photos of himself, going to university dinners with her and presentations and lunches with her while at work - messages sent by text, phone. Robbie Davies was constantly ringing him every Sunday night - personal conversations and while he was travelling - she had invited him out to stay at her house out of town for a weekend - Vincent said that it was for a university conference, work related event - I said not without me your not - It didn't eventuate Vincent informed me. Robbie Davies seemed to seeking his attention continuously, constantly and he was responding. This happened continuously.

Vincent and I went away for a romantic weekend, Robbie Davies rang on the Sunday night when we got back to his house - personal conversation - Vincent told her where he went for the weekend and did not mention that he was with me and spoke as if he went alone - Did not mention me once. He said the words goodnight to her. I questioned why he didn't mention that we had gone together or me at all - He said that he didn't speak about his personal life with his colleagues and that he wanted to tell her face to face not over the phone.

This continued for months.

I found out my dad had cancer 2 days earlier and waited all day for his comfort.

He did not ask me how I was or mention my dad at all when he arrived home. The moment he got home all he spoke about was Robbie Davies and didn't even ask how I was - I told him off.

He told me that he told her about me and our relationship - he said that she laughed.

He told me how she was always acting playful with him and with each other and going to lunch with each other at work while I sat at home waiting for him at the end of each day.

He stopped going to dinners and presentations he was going to with her and did not take me instead.

I told him to back this friendship off and stop acting that way with another women and that it was hurting me, disrespecting our relationship and causing mistrust and damage.

He told me he had stopped and stopped speaking about her at home all the time. But her emails kept coming through with personal emojis attached - not professional

He snuck into the ensuite bathroom with his tablet one weekend after getting notification on his phone when we where out together that weekend and acted strangely when he read it and did not tell me anything, acted secretly. When I became suspicious of his behaviour I checked his phone while he was in the bathroom. It was from Robbie Davies seeking his attention. When I confronted him and said did you sneak into the bathroom to send Robbie Davies a message he firmly and defensively denied it and said that I was being paranoid and told me if I didn't trust him our relationship was not going to work.

I kept on about it for weeks because I knew the truth. He finally angrily admitted it when I told him I looked at his phone and blamed me for putting pressure on him about being on his emails all the time and every moment we were together.

He never apologised and made me feel guilty for wanting him to give me some undivided attention away from work.
