

Epstein a massage". She claims she was taken to his mansion, where he exposed himself and had sexual intercourse with her, and paid her $200 immediately afterward.^[106]

Perversion of Justice, Miami Herald, November 30, 2018.

A similar $50-million suit was filed in March 2008, by a different woman, who was represented by the same lawyer.^[129] These and several similar lawsuits were dismissed.^[130]

All other lawsuits have been settled by Epstein out of court.^[131] Epstein made many out-of-court settlements with alleged victims.^[130]

Victims' rights: Jane Does v. United States (2014)

A December 30, 2014, federal civil suit was filed in Florida by Jane Doe [REDACTED] and Jane Doe 2 against the United States for violations of the Crime Victims' Rights Act by the U.S. Department of Justice's NPA with Epstein and his limited 2008 state plea. There was a later unsuccessful effort to add [REDACTED] (Jane Doe 3) and another woman (Jane Doe 4) as plaintiffs to that case.^[132] The addition accused Alan Dershowitz of sexually abusing a minor, Jane Doe 3, provided by Epstein.^[133] The allegations against Dershowitz were stricken by the judge and eliminated from the case because he said they were outside the intent of the suit to re-open the plea agreement.^{[134][135]} A document filed in court alleges that Epstein ran a "sexual abuse ring", and lent underage girls to "prominent American politicians, powerful business executives, foreign presidents, a well-known prime minister, and other world leaders".^[136]

This long-running lawsuit is pending in federal court, aimed at vacating the federal plea agreement on the grounds that it violated victims' rights.^[137] On April 7, 2015, Judge Kenneth Marra ruled that the allegations made by alleged victim [REDACTED] against Prince Andrew had no bearing on the lawsuit by alleged victims seeking to reopen Epstein's non-prosecution plea agreement with the federal government; the judge ordered that allegation to be struck from the record.^[134] Judge Marra made no ruling as to whether claims by [REDACTED] are true or false. Though he did not allow Jane Does 3 and 4 to join the suit, Marra specifically said that [REDACTED] may later give evidence when the case comes to court.^[138]

On February 21, 2019, in the case of Two Jane Does v. United States, Senior Judge of the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Florida Kenneth Marra said federal prosecutors violated the law by failing to notify victims before they allowed him to plead guilty to only the two Florida offenses. The judge left open what the possible remedy could be.^[139]

[REDACTED] v. Epstein (2015)

In a December 2014 Florida court filing by Bradley Edwards and Paul G. Cassell meant for inclusion in the Crime Victims Rights Act lawsuit,^[140] [REDACTED] (then known as [REDACTED]), alleged in a sworn affidavit that at age 17, she had been sexually trafficked by Epstein and Ghislaine Maxwell for their own use and for use by several others, including Prince Andrew^[141] and retired Harvard Law professor Alan Dershowitz.^{[8][142]} [REDACTED] also claimed that Epstein, Maxwell and others had physically and sexually abused her.^[143] She alleged that the FBI may have been involved in a cover-up.^[144] She said she had served as Epstein's sex slave from 1999 to 2002, and had recruited other underage girls.^[145] Prince Andrew, Epstein, and Dershowitz all denied having had sex with [REDACTED]. Dershowitz took legal action over the allegations.^{[146][147][148]} [REDACTED] filed a defamation suit against Dershowitz, Perversion of Justice, The Miami Herald, November 29, 2018.

Although Trump originally argued that the separations could not be stopped by an executive order, he proceeded to sign an executive order on June 20, 2018, mandating that migrant families be detained together, unless the administration judged that doing so would harm the child.^{[330][331]} On June 26, 2018, a federal judge concluded that the Trump administration had "no system in place to keep track of" the separated children, nor any effective measures for family communication and reunification;^[332] the judge ordered for the families to be reunited, and family separations stopped, except in the cases where the parent(s) are judged unfit to take care of the child, or if there is parental approval.^[333] Despite the federal court order, the Trump administration continued to practice family separations, with more than a thousand migrant children separated.^[322]

Trump wall and government shutdown

Trump examines border wall prototypes in Otay Mesa, California.

One of Trump's central campaign promises was to build a 1,000-mile border wall to Mexico and have Mexico pay for it.^[334] By the end of his term, the U.S. had built "40 miles of new primary wall and 33 miles of secondary wall" in locations where there had been no barriers and 365 miles of primary or secondary border fencing replacing dilapidated or outdated barriers.^[335]

In 2018, Trump refused to extend government funding unless Congress allocated $5.6 billion in funds for the border wall,^[336] resulting in the federal government partially shutting down for 35 days from December 2018 to January 2019, the longest U.S. government shutdown in history.^{[337][338]} Around 800,000 government employees were furloughed or worked without pay.^[339] Trump and Congress ended the shutdown by approving temporary funding that provided delayed payments to government workers but no funds for the wall.^[337] The shutdown resulted in an estimated permanent loss of $3 billion to the economy, according to the Congressional Budget Office.^[340] About half of those polled blamed Trump for the shutdown, and Trump's approval ratings dropped.^[341]

To prevent another imminent shutdown in February 2019, Congress passed and Trump signed a funding bill that included $1.375 billion for 55 miles of bollard border fencing.^[342] Trump also declared a National Emergency Concerning the Southern Border of the United States, intending to divert $6.1 billion of funds Congress had allocated to other purposes.^[342] The House and the Senate attempted to block Trump's national emergency declaration, but there were not enough votes for a veto override.^[343] Legal challenges of the fund diversions resulted in $2.5 billion of wall funding originally meant for the Department of Defense's drug interdiction efforts being approved and $3.6 billion originally meant for military construction being blocked.^[344]

Foreign policy

Trump described himself as a "nationalist"^[345] and his foreign policy as "America First".^{[346][347]} He espoused isolationist, non-interventionist, and protectionist views.^{[348][349]} His foreign policy was marked by praise and support of populist, neo-nationalist and authoritarian governments.^[350] Hallmarks of foreign relations during Trump's tenure included unpredictability and uncertainty,^[347] a lack of a consistent foreign policy,^[351] and strained and sometimes antagonistic relationships with the U.S.'s European allies.^[352]

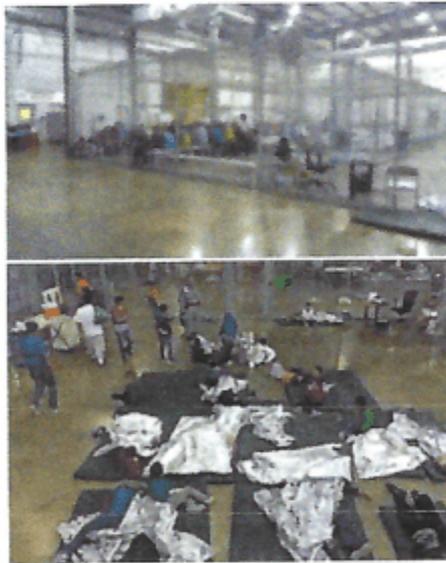

Trump questioned the need for NATO,^[348] criticized the U.S.'s NATO allies, and privately suggested on multiple occasions that the United States should withdraw from the alliance.^{[353][354]}

Following the 2015 San Bernardino attack, Trump proposed to ban Muslim foreigners from entering the United States until stronger vetting systems could be implemented.^[311] He later reframed the proposed ban to apply to countries with a "proven history of terrorism".^[312]

On January 27, 2017, Trump signed Executive Order 13769, which suspended admission of refugees for 120 days and denied entry to citizens of Iraq, Iran, Libya, Somalia, Sudan, Syria, and Yemen for 90 days, citing security concerns. The order took effect immediately and without warning.^[313] Confusion and protests caused chaos at airports.^[314] Multiple legal challenges were filed against the order, and a federal judge blocked its implementation nationwide.^[315] On March 6, Trump issued a revised order, which excluded Iraq and gave other exemptions, but was again blocked by federal judges in three states.^[316] In a decision in June 2017, the Supreme Court ruled that the ban could be enforced on visitors who lack a "credible claim of a bona fide relationship with a person or entity in the United States".^[317]

The temporary order was replaced by Presidential Proclamation 9645 on September 24, 2017, which restricted travel from the originally targeted countries except Iraq and Sudan, and further banned travelers from North Korea and Chad, along with certain Venezuelan officials.^[318] After lower courts partially blocked the new restrictions, the Supreme Court allowed the September version to go into full effect on December 4, 2017,^[319] and ultimately upheld the travel ban in a June 2019 ruling.^[320]

Family separation at border

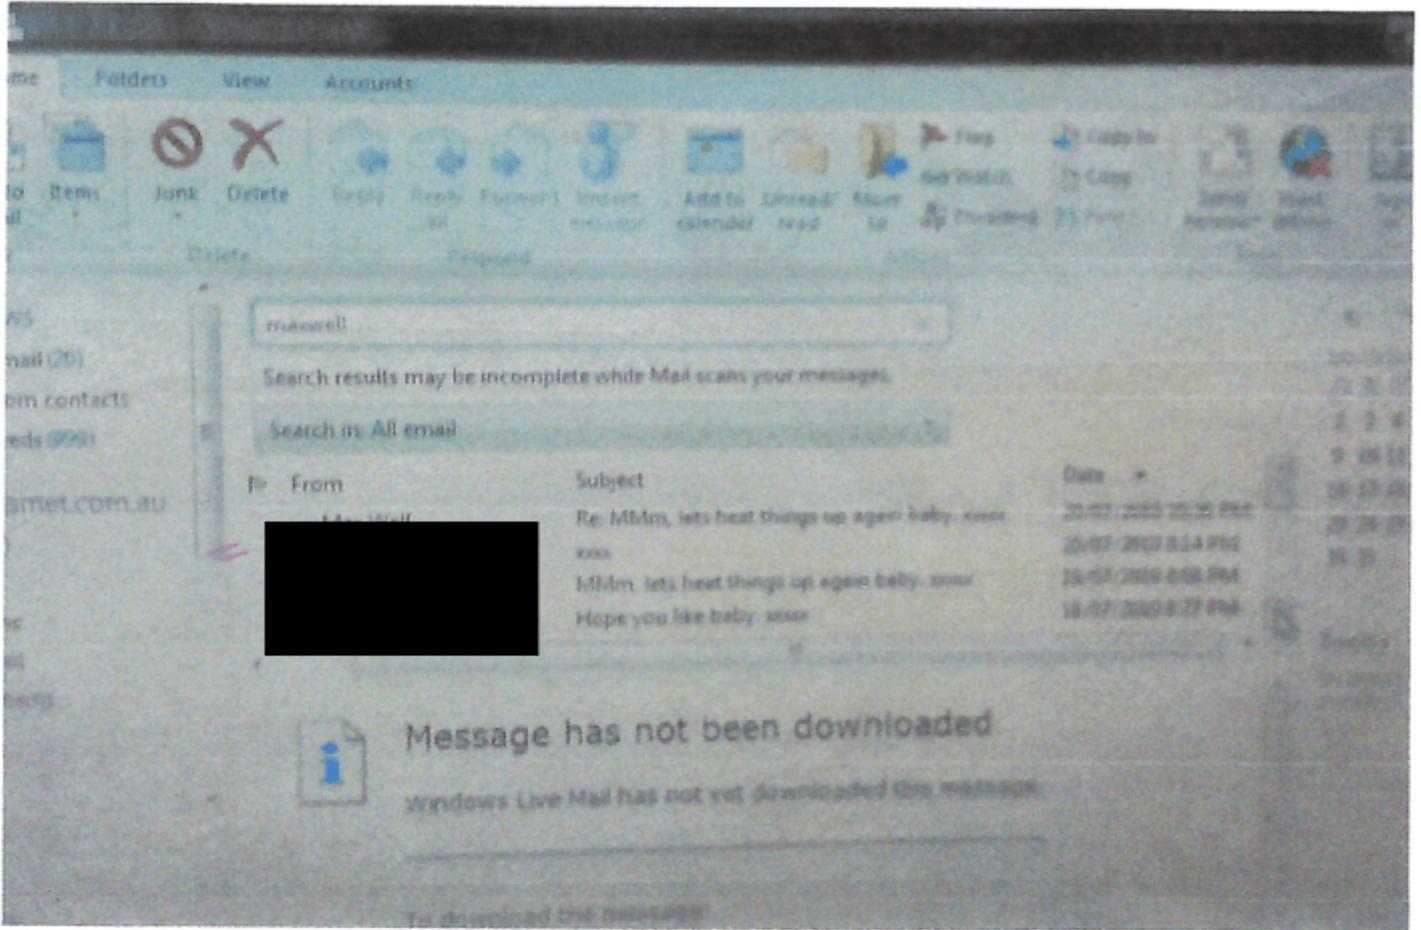

Children sitting within a wire mesh compartment in the Ursula detention facility in McAllen, Texas, June 2018

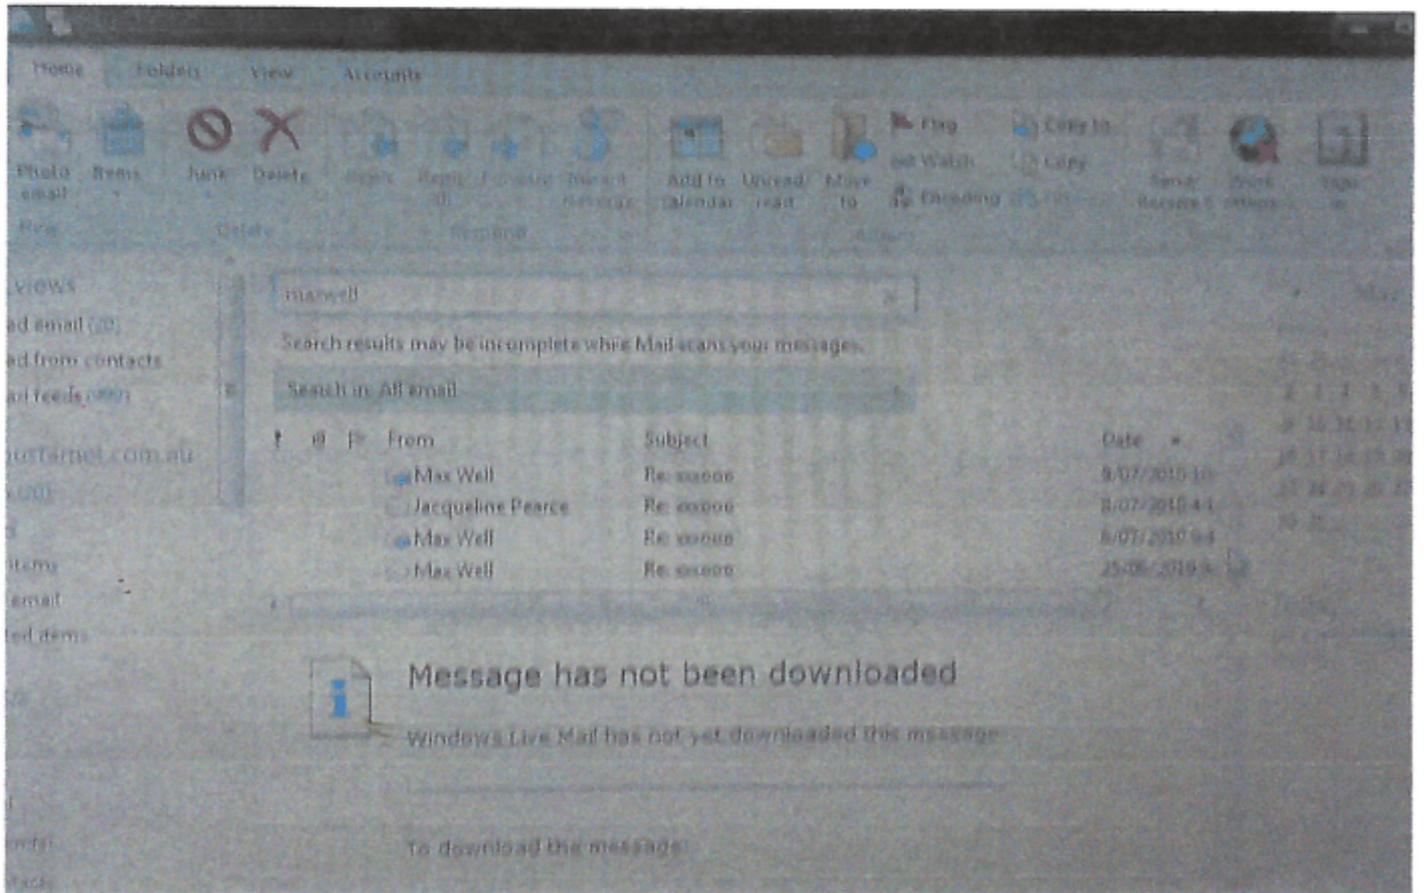

The Trump administration separated more than 5,400 children of migrant families from their parents at the U.S.–Mexico border while attempting to enter the U.S, a sharp increase in the number of family separations at the border starting from the summer of 2017.^{[321][322]} In April 2018, the Trump administration announced a "zero tolerance" policy whereby every adult suspected of illegal entry would be criminally prosecuted.^[323] This resulted in family separations, as the migrant adults were put in criminal detention for prosecution, while their children were separated as unaccompanied alien minors.^[324] Administration officials described the policy as a way to deter illegal immigration.^[325]

The policy of family separations was unprecedented in previous administrations and sparked public outrage.^{[325][326]} Trump falsely asserted that his administration was merely following the law, blaming Democrats, despite the separations being his administration's policy.^{[327][328][329]} the Family are going to use their popularity and venue to provide advertising opportunities for small businesses around the town (aiming for one of each type of business, and not like 3 or 4 hairdressers, once we got one thats it). they have 2 large tvs and a projector coming which they will show your advertising on from 10/1030 - 1/130 every single saturday night. i am putting together an info sheet with how many people they get the ages and genders. this works in adelaide, and i honestly can not see why it wouldnt work here. already spread the word to several other places and they are keen as mustard, so i thought i would aask you if you'd be keen. another thing is the original 10 businesses that sign up will be locked into that price so if prices go up you wont need to worry about it...

we (they) are looking at $100 a month or $1000 a year which ever you choose. i think that i have grabbed all the responsibility and workload so you would continually deal with myself have a think and let me know ay

Thanks
Leske

Dear [redacted]

Thank you for your recent enquiry, and we are sorry to hear how this is affecting you.

eSafety and Adult Cyber Abuse

The eSafety Commissioner's (eSafety's) primary role in dealing with cyberbullying complaints is to assist with the rapid removal of cyberbullying material targeted at Australian children, on social media services.

Please be aware that eSafety, therefore, has no legislative power to investigate adult cyber abuse complaints, formally. However, we do work to guide people where we can and provide advice on what they can do themselves.

In the most serious cases, we will use our existing relationships and escalation pathways with social media services to effect take-down of harmful material that is considered to be serious cyber abuse in nature or, where required, we will refer the matter to law enforcement.

* Digital surveillance * - IDENTIFIED AS ILLEGAL SURVEILLANCE RESULTING IN ILLEGAL ACTIVITY

* Your situation sounds like it may be digital surveillance, which is not an area we generally handle or have experience in. You may wish to approach your email (and any other relevant) service provider about the situation.

You may also wish engage an IT consultant to assist you in this matter or a cyber digital forensic expert to assist you further and we'd encourage you to consider doing this in the meantime.

Reporting to police

If you wish to pursue this or to make a formal report to police, the following steps may help you prepare:

- Prepare a timeline of what has taken place
- Place any screenshots you have in a word document (provide a summary below each image explaining what the screenshot relates to)
- Provide copies of any URL's you may have (you can obtain the URL by copying and pasting the URL address from your browser address bar)
- If you believe you know who the person is that is targeting you online, provide as much detail about the person.

I have attached our Adult Cyber Abuse Resource sheet which contains useful eSafety and support links. You may want to reach out to support services to help you in this difficult time.

We have now finalised your matter for now and hope the above information assists you.
