I just made a haircut appt for [REDACTED] today at 1:30 with Philippe in the salon. I asked how much his cuts start at and was told $175!

What do you think about me keeping petty cash here so in case something like this happens I can give a girl cash? It just so happens [REDACTED] is here now...I probably have $250 I could give her from my purse today, I just wonder if it is enough. She has long hair and wants to cut it shorter...I hate this...I liked when we had an open account with them (although scary, but easier!)

Possibly Sue could get money from JE's black bag....I'll see....

But what do you think about me keeping petty cash here??
