Thanks [REDACTED]...for sure you need to be with your sister and help her whenever possible...its family she wants with her so badly...and yes, I know Merwin and family are coming back early...I helped out with it! very happy they are coming...Did she go home to LI today? Last I heard Jojo was still waiting for her discharge papers...I will for sure check in with her...and keep praying for her!

You probably knows it already. Merwin and family are coming back on Wed. I think. I want to be spent time with her. What ever time she has. You can give her a call and she'll probably tell more details about her health. Thank you so much and let's keep praying for her health.
