I agree with Rich, in that she was surprisingly upbeat for the most part...she had her moments...but really she is concerned about the muffin mix and [REDACTED] 'getting it right' in her absence and yes, also telling me she wants to retire at 68...She sat up the entire time I was there but felt nauseous and dizzy...the nurse came in and checked her blood pressure and it was within range. [REDACTED] came to visit around 4:15.. [REDACTED] was grateful to see her as well. By the time I left I think [REDACTED] was exhausted and looking forward to some sleep. VERY happy I went to see her...
