I agree with Rich, in that she was surprisingly upbeat for the most part...she had her moments...but really she is concerned about the muffin mix and Tess 'getting it right' in her absence and yes, also telling me she wants to retire at 68...She sat up the entire time I was there but felt nauseous and dizzy...the nurse came in and checked her blood pressure and it was within range. Sue came to visit around 4:15...Lynn was grateful to see her as well. By the time I left I think Lynn was exhausted and looking forward to some sleep. VERY happy I went to see her...
