Did You Hear ... ?

By Michael Dinan

New Canaan firefighters placed strips of blue tape on the Tanker 8 vehicle following the June 30, 2016 attacks in Dallas that led to the deaths of five police officers there. They did it as a show of Tragic news reported by The Advocate: A 3-month-old baby girl from New Canaan died in Stamford on Tuesday evening, hours after she developed a problem breathing at daycare. The newspaper's crime and courts reporter writes that police are calling the cause of death blunt-force head trauma, and the incident has been classified as a homicide. Her [...]

‘A Milestone For This Town’: Residents Form Private Group To Support New Canaan’s Athletic Facilities; Dunning, NCHS Track On Radar

By Michael Dinan

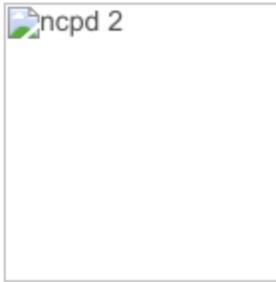

Faced with a pressing need to re-turf New Canaan’s premier sports field prior to the start of the fall season, 20 town residents six weeks ago formed a new nonprofit foundation focused on that project and several others. In that very short amount of time, thanks to generous donors representing a wide cross-section of the [...]
