Subject: Skyboard for [REDACTED] daughter

Date: Thu, 09 Jun 2016 16:09:31 +0000

Hi [REDACTED]...left you a long voicemail and following up with this email. Re the Skyboard... [REDACTED]'s daughter tried to board the plane with a Skyboard(which is a hoverboard) Airplanes will not allow these due to the batteries have been known to explode. The Skyboard was brought back to Jeffrey's house and we were to ship it to [REDACTED]'s daughter in Geneva...problem is no carrier will take the hoverboard either due to the same reason.

Jeffrey wants to get [REDACTED]'s daughter a hoverboard. When you go to the websites here in the states you cannot ship to Europe. My thought was to have Valdson order one in Paris and ship to Geneva if at all possible.

Is there a website in Europe for a Skyboard? or if not a Skyboard, a hoverboard or something similar to what she purchased. I will send you a picture of the one she purchased here in the next email.

Can you explain this to Valdson and have him do the research? Can he make it happen?

[REDACTED]'s home address:

[REDACTED]

Please let me know if Valdson can take care of this for us over there.

Thanks, [REDACTED]
