

From: Lesley Groff <[REDACTED]>
To: "jeffrey E." <jeevacation@gmail.com>
Subject: Re: Visa for Bermuda
Date: Tue, 03 May 2016 13:35:33 +0000

Natasha, our Amex rep say Karyna and [REDACTED] need a visa even for one day trip to Bermuda. Double checked if green card would work and it does not.

http://hamilton.usconsulate.gov/how_to_apply2.html

Who requires the Bermudian holiday visa for take a trip from USA?

Bermudian holiday visa is given for a controlled period of leisure travel and no business activities permitted. A holiday visa stamp or label placed by a Bermudian visa official on your passport that lets you go to Bermuda. Travel visa for Bermuda are usually granted by the Bermudian consulate in Washington D.C. or in the nearest city to your normal residential address. When obtaining a Bermudian visitor visa, you can be expected to reveal the purposes for traveling to Bermuda.

If you are a national of USA, UK or Canada, you do not require any kind of visa to enter Bermuda irrespective of whether you are a tourist, business visitor or a work permit holder going on a job. You are all set to go once you have a valid passport and return tickets (note that U.S. passport cards are not acceptable in air travel).

However nationals of countries other than USA, UK and Canada will require a multiple entry transit visa for USA, UK or Canada (as applicable depending on one's route). This is because such nationals will need to transit and return through US, UK or Canada. This visa is known as Multi Re-Entry Visa (MRV) which ensures that a visitor is able to leave Bermuda, and return to his/her own country via US, UK or Canada (as the case may be).

So nationals who require and have valid MRV (Multi Re-Entry Visa for US, UK or Canada) can now visit Bermuda without requiring any separate visa for Bermuda or visa waiver. So tourists, persons on business and work permit holders from such countries (including who were earlier Visa Controlled Nationals) now do not need a separate entry visa for Bermuda. However the following conditions must be met by them:

- 1) One must show the MRV on arrival in Bermuda which must be valid for minimum 45 days beyond the date of departure or expiry of work permit (as applicable);
- 2) Passport should be valid for minimum 45 days from the date of departure from Bermuda or expiry of work permit (as the case may be). Note that this requirement of minimum 45 days passport validity applies only for nationals requiring and holding MRV. For others (i.e. nationals of US, UK and Canada) one only needs to have a passport valid till the return journey is completed;
- 3) The traveler must have valid return or onward tickets.

Sent from my iPhone

On May 3, 2016, at 9:05 AM, jeffrey E. <jeevacation@gmail.com> wrote:

even for a day trip?

On Tue, May 3, 2016 at 8:58 AM, Lesley Groff <[REDACTED]> wrote:

I went to visa central.com...both [REDACTED] and Karyna would need a visa...you would not, to visit Bermuda. I am double checking with Natasha, our Amex rep...

--

please note

The information contained in this communication is confidential, may be attorney-client privileged, may constitute inside information, and is intended only for the use of the addressee. It is the property of JEE

Unauthorized use, disclosure or copying of this communication or any part thereof is strictly prohibited and may be unlawful. If you have received this communication in error, please notify us immediately by return e-mail or by e-mail to jeevacation@gmail.com, and destroy this communication and all copies thereof, including all attachments. copyright -all rights reserved