Hi Lesley,

I received a weird email from S7 saying that they suspected the transaction and payment method. They asking to send as code approval from the bank, a front side of the bank card showing only first 6 and last 4 digits and back side of the card with hidden CVCcode but w signature of the card holder and sent copy of the passport of the card holder; of those request won't be received within 24 hrs than transaction will be canceled... It's nonsense but I guess this is bc of a payment comes from a foreign country... I doubt that JE wants to give a such info so I was thinking may be we should use either mine or my father card and just refund the payment ?

For [REDACTED] Dad!!...on JE's Visa...this airline does not accept Amex...
[REDACTED], I had to give the airline your cell number (I don't have a number for your father) Also, he will need to get his luggage upon arrival in STP (if he is checking luggage) and take with him to S7 Airlines...
:) Lesley
