We are invited to a party starting at 6:30 on sat aug 30 and need a sitter. Wondering what you would think of cass coming and spending night. We could give her $50 Thing is I know we have a football jamboree next day and I don't know where or time. I don't even know if she is available but I thought they would have fun ugh...what a pain...Ike did say today I could give you the password, which is what i already gave you...I actually still have my white Iphone 4 and it is not damaged...I wanted Cassidy to give hers to Ty because I thought it was such a sweet and bonding thing to do between cousins...I can wipe my clean and give to Ty (although I will talk to Apple first!) Maybe I can go to stamford this week or weekend...I just don't want your stuff to be messed up anymore!

well... [REDACTED] not sure it will make a difference if the phone / I touch is wiped clean. My appt is at 3:30 today. They may just have to wipe my phone and re-install.... I hate it when they have to do that -- I always lose something. I shouldn't have messed with it -- should have waited to ask Apple... yes, no fun - but [REDACTED] glad it made Ty happy to have the devices.

I really don't understand why the guy there seemed to think I had to have the new ID that replaced mine. . . ??? but by me taking it off the I Touch, I deleted my ID all together.... IDK - hate being so confused about this stuff!

Ash, Ike was in one of those moods and didnt want to discuss passwords. He said he was going to take his email off the phone. I need to find out if he did so. So sorry such a sweet gift has messed you all up. I could also ask G to just wipe the phone clean but I don't want that to screw you up either. What time is your appt today?

ok -- this is getting somewhere! so I wiped it off the I touch, but it was changed on the iPhone to Ike's address so it's his address with #34Redhawk

as the password on the phone -- correct?

the apple ID is blank in the Itouch in the cell phone is is: [REDACTED]

so Ike did change it!
