Hi Dina...I feel like it has been awhile since I've seen you guys! How is Ryan doing? I hate that he has not been able to participate in all the sports...the Bull's season has been a lot of fun...but would have been better to have you guys there too. The final playoff game is tomorrow night against the Warhogs :) ...hmm or War pigs...now I can't remember. Either way it is quite a funny name! Will Ryan be able to participate in the LAX at Dunning come March 18th you think? I signed Ty up for the clinic...

I hope all is well with you and yours. We should try to get something on the calendar for dinner again with the Garrity's...would be fun! I know pat is traveling alot in March but maybe we can organize something...

Just wanted to say hi!

:) Lesley
