Lesley,

Assuming that there are no issues that pop up during the inspection they should be able to get the Temp CO right away.

I don't know who is scheduled to come out from the Building Department, but if Bob knows who that is I can talk to him.

Subject: Question for you..

Morning [REDACTED] Thank you for your time yesterday. After seeing you I went over to the tax assessor and was able to get the other information I needed.

Question for you, Bob has our final inspections this Tuesday June 3. In your experience, how long does it take to receive this approval and then get the CO (in our case, the temporary CO)? I am starting to stress about the time line here.. We are lined up with the house cleaners, movers, Internet folks, etc all targeting a move in date of June 24 (yes, same day as the board meeting...not on purpose! Just the way our schedules worked out). Bob has told me we should be able to do this but I wanted to know what you think. We are also renting out our current home and must be out by then... So you can see how my stress level is high! Any insight you have would be greatly appreciated! Thanks,

Lesley Groff
