Dear Jeffrey,

With enormous gratitude we are pleased to share our 2013 Annual Report reflecting the innovative ways that our Second Response initiative is positively affecting children and preventing Post Traumatic Stress Disorder through play.

In 2013, our efforts focused on building much-needed infrastructure to support our work in reaching significantly more children and building resilient communities around the world.

We hope you will take pride in our collective achievements and relish our bright prospects for the well-being of children. Thank you for making it all possible.

With appreciation,

Martha Hackett, M.D.
