Jeffrey,

In my youth, I committed to a lifetime of service to our country. From fighting in Korea, to standing up for the civil rights of all Americans, to battling for vital services that New Yorkers depend on, I've been devoted to our communities.

But our work is not done. We need to keep pushing President Obama's progressive agenda to the finish line. That's why I'm running for re-election.

And I'm having a campaign kickoff fundraiser this upcoming Monday, March 10th at 6 PM at Chocolat Harlem \(2217-13 Frederick Douglass Blvd at 120th St\). Will you buy a ticket and stand by my side there?

We're still working to increase the minimum wage and ensure that all Americans earn a wage they can live on. We're not done fighting to protect vulnerable working families who depend on unemployment insurance or food stamps.

If you agree that we can't let up, please accept this invitation to be there at the fundraiser when I kick off my re-election campaign.

That's not all, either. We need to reform the immigration system and help the hundreds of thousands of DREAMers. We're working to create opportunities for the millions of Americans without jobs. We can't let Republican obstruction stop us from advancing a progressive agenda.

Will you RSVP now to attend our campaign kickoff?

Thank you,

 Charles Rangel
