

From: [REDACTED] [REDACTED] <[REDACTED]>
To: "Gerald Barton" <[REDACTED]>
Subject: Re: New York Trip
Date: Tue, 14 Jan 2014 18:34:04 +0000

---

You are all set!
Hope you have a tremendous Anniversary!

On Jan 14, 2014, at 1:30 PM, "Gerald Barton" <[REDACTED]> wrote:

[REDACTED]

The arrival and departure times will be the same. Thanks again.

Jerry

---

From: [REDACTED] [REDACTED] [mailto:[REDACTED]]
Sent: Tuesday, January 14, 2014 1:26 PM
To: Gerald Barton
Subject: Re: New York Trip

No need to blush! It happens! The new dates of Jan. 25-28th is just fine! Will your arrival and departure times still be the same?

On Jan 14, 2014, at 12:56 PM, Gerald Barton <[REDACTED]> wrote:

[REDACTED]

The last time I remember blushing, I was a sophomore in high school. If you were here today, you would see a repeat of that rare phenomena.

I am embarrassed that when I was given the dates of the need for the apartment, I knew it was very close to my 65th wedding anniversary which is January 25. When I corresponded with you, unfortunately, I reserved the two days before that date, not the two days after that date. Therefore, my carelessness has created more work for you and if this is not possible, of course, we understand.

If the 26th and 27th are available, that would be great, but if the 25th was also available and we could have a 3-night stay, that would be glorious.

I again apologize for the confusion. Let me know if this can possibly work. Thank you.

Jerry

---

From: [REDACTED] [REDACTED] [mailto:[REDACTED]]
Sent: Tuesday, January 14, 2014 11:46 AM
To: Gerald Barton
Subject: Re: New York Trip

We are always happy to help accommodate you...and your arrival/departure timing will be just fine! Thank you for your nice words...Christmas was spectacular for all the reasons you mention (every day is spectacular

