Yes, sorry I wasn't as fast as usual...I had a lot of driving errands today and finally settled this afternoon in a place that I could type!

If you ever need to reach me in a hurry, I am usually responsive to emails (receive them on my cell phone) or to texts or voice calls (on [REDACTED]).

[REDACTED] was great to speak with you today.

We thought that you and Jeffrey would be interested that our "common sense" group has just created an online version of Marvin's Society of Mind book.

This may be suitable to put on your web site that includes information about scientists and thinkers in Jeffrey's circles.

Mainly, we welcome comments on the new online version, as you are seeing it just as it is born!

We continue to thank Jeffrey for his initial support of our overall effort to put Minsky's publications in new forms. This is just one of those projects.
