There is a man who came to the door tonight called Hoffenberg. (White man with grey hair, I would think well into his 70's)

He is crazy and is NOT to be let into the house under any circumstance.

He is persistent and refers to himself as 'one of Jeffrey's associates'.

No one is to click the door open over the telephone. Go to the door physically and only once you know who is there and that it is not Hoffenberg are you to open it.

Jeffrey has a very busy day tomorrow so everyone who has his schedule please familiarize yourself with whom we are expecting and at what time. Let them in by physically opening the door. Make sure the door is firmly closed behind them.

We have to be very careful as the door is giving problems at the moment. It does not close on its own. Someone left the house after Hoffenberg had been ringing and the door did not close behind them. When I got to the door there was a silver car parked outside and an elderly man which I think could have been him started rushing to get out the car when he saw me at the door. The car is now gone. When you leave the house please do not walk off the front door step until you are absolutely certain that the door is closed behind you. If you are not sure then call someone on the inside and ask them to check. When you enter the house please also make sure it is closed behind you.

We have now got a bolt on the inside of the front door. At night the door needs to be bolted from the inside AND the second door between the oval room and Rich's office that leads into the entrance hall needs to be locked. I am usually the last person to leave so I will liaise with [REDACTED] and Karyna to bolt it behind me.

Please call me if you are unsure of anything.
