This is out of Joe's hands. I have asked the rest of the team to implement better sample tracking. They just got a $500K grant, but that does not include anything for fixing the sample tracking problem. They really don't like me messing around with individual requests either, but I will persist.
(This is not the first time, I'm sorry to say.)

Hi George...Jeffrey just called asking about an update on this again...were you able to speak with Joe?

Thanks, Lesley

I've encouraged them to set up a sample status update system. I'll get back to you soon.

Hello George! Hope you are well...Jeffrey is wondering if you might have any update on his genome project...I tried contacting Joe Thakuria via email and cell phone, but have not heard back...sorry to bother you on this, but Jeffrey is very curious! Last time we checked in was mid Sept...any update would be appreciated...even if the update is: there is no update!

Thank you,
Lesley
