Dear Jeffrey,

Thank you for your support of AJC. It's that time of the year when you may be considering your charitable contributions. You have until December 31, 2013 to use the IRA charitable rollover provision to make a gift to AJC, and receive tax benefits. Click here to learn how now!

Who can take advantage of the IRA charitable rollover? What is the maximum gift?

If you have an IRA, and you and/or your spouse are 70 ½ and older, you each can make a tax-free charitable distribution of up to $100,000 from your IRAs directly to a public charity, such as AJC, through December 31, 2013.

What are the Benefits?

Your IRA charitable rollover transfer to AJC counts towards your minimum required annual withdrawal from your IRA. By taking advantage of this opportunity, the funds you transfer to AJC will not be included in your taxable income. In some cases, lowering your taxable income may place you in a more favorable tax bracket, and using IRA assets for the charitable rollover can also reduce your taxable estate.

Please note that while your taxable income will be lowered, the distribution to AJC will not be eligible for a charitable tax deduction.

Individual financial and estate planning objectives vary. Please consult with your tax professional. To learn more about making IRA charitable rollover contributions, please click here, or for questions, please contact Debra Rubenstein, AJC National Director of Planned Giving, at (877) 252-2040, or by email at plannedgiving@ajc.org.
