She needs to go to the web site of the French consulate and look through the list of the docs required for a multiple entry tourist visa - they are all listed on the website! I have already texted her the documents from the list that I remember - but i strongly encourage her to go through he list herself. The consulate gives explicit instructions on the website and even at the interview they asked me whether I had looked at their website. I would be happy to assist if [REDACTED] has any further questions!

I'm not even sure what you are doing? Perhaps [REDACTED] would be a good one to ask since she has gone through a bunch of stuff with citizenship? What are you trying to accomplish...? Like you said, i would think a passport is crucial to take with you when going to a gov't agency...besides that not sure? But we can figure all out...[REDACTED] could be good to ask also, since she is [REDACTED]?
