I'm fairly sure G not coming. He opted to go to a last minute birthday dinner with friends instead of dinner with me and kids. Louis cried. :(

I can't handle it anymore.

I just opened your email...! I didnt' realize you already purchased your tickets! Great...I will get on line and purchase one for me and Ty as well then! We will have fun...weather calls for scattered thunderstorms all week next week! I hope that changes to sunny and beautiful all week!

I feel like such a tourist. lol

But I think this makes a lot of sense if we plan it right. you know? maybe go crazy on tours all day Friday and let the kids see as much as possible that day and then the Park and chill on Saturday before we fly home.

Can you please email me the link to the train schedule to your town so I can take care of all that for our trip to YOU on the 4th! So excited and love that our children will be together as much as I'm excited to see you.
