Good Morning Jeffrey,

Me again! (So sorry! It turns out that I do still need your help, please!) ...one of my other former employers is standing by corporate policy to not provide references beyond a confirmation of my dates of employment, so I need another REAL one after all. Would you be so kind as to still provide one for me? I really need the next person to say that I was AMAZING in order to make them forget all of the unfortunate back and forth that just happened with my other reference (even though it wasn't personal and rather just policy) as well as to offset Ghislaine's advice that she didn't remember me very well. Would you be willing to do this for me? I had to go through 7 rounds of interviews and now it's just down to getting great references, so I would be SO SO GRATEFUL for really nice remarks from you and of course, for your time!

If yes, would you please let me know what number you would like to be reached on and when a good time would be? (I want to make this as hassle-free as possible for you because I am SO THANKFUL!) Or, in case it's any easier for you, you are very welcome to call Joanna Albright, Director of HR at Coatue Management at any moment that is convenient for you. She is reachable at: [REDACTED]

I appreciate your reply and help SO MUCH!

Many many thanks,
[REDACTED]

You are the best! Thank you so much!

They may not need to call you after all, in which case, I am sorry to have wasted your time with my lengthy email, but in the case that they change their minds, I hope you don't mind me being in touch again to ask for your best, current phone number.

With heartfelt appreciation,

Of course

Hi Jeffrey,

It's been ages! Hope you are well! ...I keep in touch with Sarah from time-to-time, so I get a nice update from her about you every now and then, and it was very exciting to recently read about the amazing Cancer Metastasis Research that you are funding. I have always been in awe of your kindness and generosity.

Meanwhile, I hope you don't mind me asking if you would be willing to give me a glowing reference all these years later. I just made it through 7 rounds of interviews for a role supporting Hedge Fund Manager, Phillippe Laffont and have been advised that they will offer me the job contingent upon receiving good references...however, when they called Ghislaine, she advised that she hardly remembered me and I am afraid that this has made me look a bit bad. I know that it's been just as long since I've worked for you but I remember what nice things you offered to both John Sykes and Barry Diller on my behalf years ago, and I wonder if you recall me well, if you might be willing to say some nice words about me again.

I appreciate your reply and any/all help that you might be willing to offer me.

Many many thanks and best,
