Do it.

You will not be stepping on my toes.

Then hit me up again next wed to "check in" If you have heard nothing

Hi L,

Is it okay if I shoot JE a message about meeting up. I am totally confused why he couldn't do it this week after seeming so resolute doing so last Saturday - when I thought we were supposed to be meeting.

I'd like to reach out to him in our informal fashion but don't want to step on your toes....or belie anything you think might be more effective.

We are in a bit of an important turning point right now and I could really use his help.

Thanks.
