You know Aaron lives very close to the double tree and you could have easily had him bring you to the doubletree instead of hanging out at chef Luis shooting the breeze with Emily and Brian. I feel like you ditched us. Jules and paul and kids are leaving for good. I know we saw them over weekend but so what. You told me you had a big meeting and dinner with your partners. Makes sense and completely want you to do that. But when the dinner portion fell apart you should have told me. And I don't like that you didn't. I do understand why it fell thru (Danny, Henry tired, Johnny had his kids-but didn't Johnny know all along he would have his kids??). I just don't like when I asked you to come meet us again and all you said is we're at chef Luis and can't come. That was 8:00. We could have come met you (which, by the way , Ty and I almost did. Believe me , I would have thought it very odd if we walked in and found you sitting at the bar with Emily and Brian at 9:30 and not your partners) Bottom line I feel like you were not forthcoming and you ditched us. Doesn't make me feel good. I guess I don't know what time you got to the restaurant but I'll bet way before 8.
