Bob! I completely forgot about trying to organize an asbestos and lead inspection...do you think you could call around to some of these guys? I have been a bit swamped at work. I am hoping to work from home on Friday and could do some then, but if you could get the ball rolling would be great. I am thinking we will have to bother our renters a few times with inspectors...but they have been very accomodating in the past and I think they will be ok.
