The kitchen at my institute is shut down for August, so we would need to eat someplace else. It's about a 40 minute drive from SF to Stanford (where my institute is). I assume that Jeffrey will have a car. How does the following sound:

1) Assuming that Jeffrey is staying in SF (is he?), we drive down there around 10:00, and spend about an hour there.

2) We play lunch by ear.

Would this work?

Thanks,
s.
