don't even worry on the name...most spell it with an [REDACTED] at the end! ..and I caught the Tuesday 6th error and changed it before sending to JE! I knew what you meant. :)

Went to the beach one day...I prefer the pool ...daddy is WAY more fun when it comes to the beach..but they have tube rides and water slides...I did all of that ... fun fun

*So sorry for misspelling your name—I work with a [REDACTED] all the time and my fingers committed it to muscle memory—and I meant Tuesday, August 7th (not Tuesday August 6th which won't come around for awhile).

That sounds like the perfect vacation, for both you and your son! What did you get up to? Beach stuff?

How nice that you are there too! I remember the last time I was there also thinking it was way cooler than I expected. The shorts will have to wait.

Thank you for water boarding your boss...ha! I will pass this on to Jeffrey and i am sure he will be pleased with your efforts!

My vacation was AWESOME...just too short. Love being with my family no matter where we are. BUT, the Atlantas was amazing a super for a 7 year old.

Hi [REDACTED],

How was your vacation?!

As always, Jeffrey is welcome whenever he'd like to come, but I preempted your question and brought it up with Woody again yesterday, to which he reiterated my first statement, and after a little water-boarding, said the following days have things that Jeffrey might find interesting: Friday, August 3rd; Monday, August 6th; Tuesday, August 6th.

Yes, I'm in SF too! It's lovely here. Colder than I expected. I doubt my shorts will get any use all summer.

Morning Katherine! Hope all is well. I was in the Bahamas last week at Atlantis! Sooo much fun and hard to come home!

Just checking in. ... Might there be a date Woody thinks would be good to visit the set in San Fran? Jeffrey was wondering if he may have a Better idea now.

(are you in san fran too??)

Thanks! [REDACTED]
