No worries Sam! As it turned out Larry is not coming to the city today afterall..

If he does come to NY it would be tomorrow or Sat....and I would not let him go in until speaking with you first so no worries!

Hi Lesley!

Thanks so much.. I am just seeing this now.. I should be in the city in an hour or so.

In order to empty the bedroom closet for you, I had to cramp my stuff in the same closet as the pilot. Please do not have him go in today till I get there and remove my stuff.. I literally have things on top of his to make them fit.

Let me know when he's coming.. I should be in NY for a while now and Boris back and forth in the next few weeks.

Thanks again!
Sam

Hello sam! Doing great and hope you are enjoying Seattle! No one has needed to stay and the apartment has been cleaned. The housekeeper left you some bleach and laundry detergent if you ever need! I believe our pilot might be able to get to that front closet on Thursday. He is also flying in. Let me see what I can do!

Hey Lesley,

how are you..?

Did some one end up staying at the apt this week..? I get back on Thursday around 2pm. Just letting you know. Can the house keeper clean the apt before I arrive? Especially if some one slept there.

Thank you !!
Sam

Got it!! And I did speak to the pilot and he promises me he will go through it when next in NY. I just don't know when that is... hopefully sooner rather than later! (he dis comment it is mostly junk as well!)

Noooooooo..... Not throw away things for this trip. Was just repeating what [REDACTED] had mentioned. When I saw her last, she said the things in there have been there a long time and that most of them are probably just junk. Didn't mean for this trip.. No rush.. Just for the future it would be good!
Thanks Lesley .

I will for sure have [REDACTED] clean for you! As far as the front closet, I would need to ask the pilot about it...we can't go throwing things away without his consent for this trip unfortunatley. but hopefully by the next trip you take we can get that closet cleaned up a bit. I will touch base with the pilot to ask him about it.

Hey.. I'll try and put my things in the other closet like last time... There's so much junk in that front closet that it's almost full already. Can we clean that up..? [REDACTED] said its for the pilot and most of it is junk.. If I can do that ASAP it would be very helpful as I would have that as a personal closet. It's a lot to pack and unpack all my stuff always.
I arrive back on march 14th at night so if she can come and clean the apt for me that day, it would be great.....
And obviously if you are placing some one while I am gone, she should go in and change sheets and clean up a bit... It's very clean looking from the surface but definitely needs cleaning and scrubbing.. Bathroom, kitchen, carpet, sheets.. Etc....
For me if she can clean it on the 14th it would be great!

Thanks!!
Sam
