Yes, because I thought that if you could unpack it And send to me as a gift i could skip paying extra tax... What do you think about it? Because sometimes it is possible to write an invoice that you are sending things that are yours, thus you don't have to pay taxes. I was sending all the paintings And other things like that.

I could send you the invoice form that has to be filled And added to other documents. But then I also show the overall value of the package usually low.

Hello [REDACTED]! I really like the Sorel Women's Emelie Lace boots! They look durable and I like the color. They are a bit different than the ones we were looking at yesterday, but perhaps these make more sense if you get a lot of inclement weather. They come in size 9 and 10US..which translates to a size 40 or 41

(correct?) Which would be better? I like this with either the green or the ivory coat...which do you prefer? I will order today...
