I think the trek 3700 would work, I just want to make sure it is the correct size. I ride a 54 centimeter on my road bike I am sure that I would just need to move the seat up or down

Ikey, I have been trying to find a bike for you...the New Canaan Bike store in town sells consignment bikes, but only sells pristine bikes around $500 up (and he has not mountain or hybrid bikes right now) I found this guy on Craig's list...the bikes say they are refurbished (tuned up ready to go) I was looking at buying new but they are expensive from (example) Dick's and if you buy from Walmart you have to put it together...I suppose we could hire someone to do this? not sure who

these are in Westport!
