> See below. Apparently back in October 2009 Connie thought it was saved on the system as well; no surprise that it's not. I searched my hard copies, ran searches on the system, searched my sent and received emails (which is how I found the email below), looked in Jessica's Depo Transcripts folder and did not find the transcript. I shredded most of my hard copies of depositions a while back since it occupied a pile several feet high in my office. Let me know if there is anything else you need. Thanks.

> Do you need the deposition file? The Alessi deposition is under Epstein/deposition transcript if you want to print the transcript. Let me know.
