let's say 4 pm? It shouldn't take too long. Maybe a couple of hours for the cASSting. Then I will make the pizza mold after. I'll have it ready when you come back. Since we're not going for crazy detail, you can just wear either skin tight nylons, or just a thong if you want (or nothing - it's entirely up to you, but I think this one is mostly gonna be about contours).

Also I just wanna say I think that pizza is gonna be extra challenging to pull off - it's not chocolate or sugar, which starts out liquid and hardens... under the best of circumstances pizza dough can be a pain in the ass (pardon the expression) to work with. Normally you want to cook it lying flat... even cake batter is easier... so just keep that in mind... it might be really hard to get the pizza thing to work!! But I'll make you a bakable mold...
