 iTunes Store Welcome

Dear [REDACTED],

Welcome to the iTunes Store, the best place to preview, buy, and download music. You can also browse our wide selection of movies (for purchase or for rent), TV shows, audiobooks, podcasts, and more. Keep this email in a safe place for future reference, as it includes important information.

Here's all you need to get started

Your iTunes Store Account has been set up, with the following Apple ID:

[REDACTED]
(Use the password you created when you created your Apple ID)

To launch iTunes and visit the iTunes Store right now, click here.

Your account is set up and enables you to purchase and download immediately. You can enjoy your purchases on up to five computers, make unlimited playlists, burn CDs, and transfer music and more to your iPod. iTunes Plus purchases - songs and music videos available in our highest-quality, 256 kbps AAC format and without digital rights management (DRM) - can be played on an unlimited number of computers and compatible digital music players. Use your new Apple ID for all kinds of Apple purchases - from the newest hardware in the Apple Store online to photo books and prints through iPhoto.

If you would like to find out more about the iPod digital music player, visit <http://www.apple.com/ipod/> to learn how you can take up to 40,000 songs you buy and download with you wherever you go.

For help using the Store, choose Help > iTunes Help in iTunes. If you have questions about your purchases, click on the grey Sign In box in the upper right-hand corner of the iTunes Store and enter your name and password. Once you have logged in, click Account under Quick Links, then click Purchase History.

If you have forgotten your password or need additional customer service, please visit <http://www.apple.com/support/itunes/store/>

Thanks for creating your Apple ID.

Sincerely,

The iTunes Store team
Apple Inc.
