---

Hi Fabian,
I just got back into town and wanted to touch base and see how my project is going?
Best,

Hi [REDACTED],
Yes, I need to take the dimension again, and I go to do a Lacquer sample and take the aluminium grill sample. I'm available this Friday after 5.00pm or Saturday anytime.
Please let me know what time is better for you.
Thank you
Fabian

Hi Fabian,
I would like to go with the aluminum grill and the wooden lacquer counter top option for the radiator cover. (Is there a big difference between the stainless steel and aluminum for the grill? I just want to make sure the aluminum will still be a good quality for this application)
I would also like to go with the option with 4 panels and 4 drawers.

For the desk counter top, I've ordered some samples of caesar stone to see which color will best match my desktop material. I will let you know what I'd like to do there as soon as I get the samples.
In the meantime, I'd like to go ahead with the radiator cover. Do you need to come back and measure again, etc?
