Dear Karyna,

I am writing to follow-up and see if you or your client have any questions regarding the proposal sent the other week? If you would like, [REDACTED] be happy to mail you a small book of past projects so you can see the artwork close-up, and I can of course provide you with references to contact.

I realize the cost of the project is rather high, but the amount of space is very large. The work would of course look stunning in the stairwell and be on par with the the prestige of the home itself. If the price is out of budget, then a series of 3 large framed images that fit within each panel would help to contain the cost and still cover a lot of the wall space.

I look forward to hearing from you.

All the best,

Elizabeth

Thank you very much for your proposal!
The owner would like to see a rough sketch if possible to get a better idea.

In terms of the size: you are right, each panel frame is 12x16 feet. The owner's idea is to have the art done through all the 3 walls uninterrupted, unlike the current separate pictures. He also wants to do it from the floor level all the way up. The size would be 40x20 feet for each wall that way.
Hope this helps.

Thank you!

Karyna.

Hi Karyna,

Here is the reply from Kurt:

Dear Karyna,

I would propose a series of three murals based on the theme of Apollo & the Muses on Mount Parnassus, as it contains themes the client is interested in. Below is a short description from Wikipedia:

Mount Parnassus is sacred to Apollo and the home of the Muses. Apollo has been variously recognized as a god of music, poetry, truth and prophecy, healing, the sun and light. The Muses are the goddesses of the inspiration of literature, science, and the arts. They were considered the source of the knowledge, related orally for centuries in the ancient culture, which was contained in poetic lyrics and myths.

I think the compositional design would work well with the classical/ Doric feeling of the architectural space. It is a subject that I have worked with before, and know that a large scale series of paintings would be uniquely impressive. The figures would be life-sized and the richly detailed landscape image would rise out of the clouds.

Can you please check on the size of each of the three canvas surfaces for me. Judging by the railing height they appear to be about 12 feet X 16 feet each, which is not as large as the size called out in the email. Having the correct size is essential for estimating the price.

Thanks,

Kurt

Hi Elizabeth,

Yes, there are 3 panels.

The themes, that the owner is in particular interested in are science, finance or music.

Please let me know if you have more questions, otherwise looking forward to your proposal.

Thank you!

Karyna.

Hi Karyna,

It looks like there are 3 panels -- is that right? Are you looking for a particular theme (landscape, religious scene, etc.) or should Kurt make a suggestion? It is helpful to know something about the owner or their interests to make the best suggestion possible for the panels.

Knowing the theme will determine the complexity and then I can send you the cost.

Best,

Elizabeth

That is great, thank you!

Please see attached the photos of the walls, each side is 20 feet wide x 40 feet high.

Please advice what would be the next step..

Thanks again,

Karyna.

Hi Karyna,

Kurt has worked on large scale private commissions for 40 years. He has done everything from entire church ceilings in Italy to homes in AD magazine. To see some of his permanent fine art work please go to the website: [REDACTED]

It is a bit difficult to "find" the various portfolios, but from the link above you will be taken to a page that scrolls horizontally (move your cursor over the right hand side of the page and it should start to move).

The various portfolios are accessed by clicking in the lower left hand corner of the larger images, the smaller ones can be clicked open and they have information. If you have any question just let me know. If you are interested in a price, we need to know the size of the artwork, if there is a particular theme, and the medium (oil mural, sculpture, etc.).

I look forward to hearing from you. Below are two screen shots to show you where the portfolios are.

All the best,

Elizabeth

Hello,

A client in New York City would like to have a large scale wall art created in his NYC townhouse. Would that be possible for you to do?

Thank you in advance,

Karyna.
