Hi Karyna

I am so glad you were able to participate. It really is a special ceremony. No problem about next week. I spoke to Dr. Lichtenthal and we will get you both of the instrument kits on August 28th. So we will cancel everything on the 22nd. Enjoy some time with your family and then just start classes with on 8/27.

Dear Dr. Zubiaurre,

It was so thrilling to be at the white coat ceremony this morning, it is difficult to describe. Thank you for your very kind consideration and help. Only if it is not a problem whatsoever, I was wondering if it was possible that I pick up the instrument kit this week as opposed to next Wed the 22nd. This will allow me the time to travel with my mother to her relatives in the States. I would of course be there as you proposed if this change is in any way a problem... once again thank you thank you thank you.
